CONNECTIVITY & DATA

CONNECTIVITY AND DATA SOLUTIONS

Connecting with customers and crew starts with connecting your aircraft.

We understand that connecting your aircraft requires more than just hardware and software. It requires a collaborative partner with the expertise to create system solutions that work in harmony to achieve your goals.

Astronics serves as your connected aircraft partner, working in collaboration with you to provide innovative products with the engineering, integration, and certification services to make your connected aircraft program a success.

Count on Astronics for:

A breadth of certified product solutions—for SATCOM, avionics, and cabin connectivity and data

Custom solution development—from seasoned engineering teams who craft products, systems, and certifications into programs that fulfill customer visions

Engineering expertise—from our in-house engineering, design, integration, and installation of hardware and software systems

Future-proof systems—with proven, industry-leading technologies

Easy integration—with the elegant simplicity of open architectures that integrate well within Astronics and with other industry connectivity providers

Experience in the ecosystem—with a globally installed base of connected aircraft solutions

Worldwide support—available for 24/7/365 customer service, support, and maintenance

Innovative. Collaborative. Connected.

Connect with your passengers for loyalty and revenue opportunities. Connect with your crew for safety and operational efficiencies. Astronics delivers it all for your ultimate connected aircraft.
